

A Song

A was a little bit
Scared to lead the alphabet
So he took a little
Walk through town

And there what did A see?
The sign said "apothecary"
A place to have a milkshake
And sit right down

A ordered a milkshake
And sat down at the counter
And things were fine for about an hour

Til the door opened and then
In came lots of A's good friends
Like B and C and D and Z
They all sat down

Z said "Hi, A, we missed seeing you all day,
You look sad, do you want to talk to me?"
A said "I feel afraid to lead the alphabet parade"

Z said "You feel anxious, it's fine,
But you don't lead all of the time,
There are lots of words that don't start with A,

Like milkshake, and cheeseburger,
And chair and open sign,
And some words that don't have any A's at all

Like zoom and eels and good friends
Let's all go back home again
We can all take turns being first in line

And so all of the friends went home,
And A no longer felt alone
A knew if A felt scared
To take a walk with good friends
Down to the apothecary in town
