

Sector 7

written and illustrated by David Wiesner

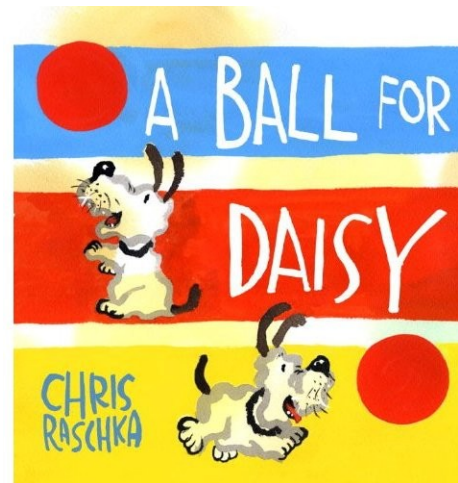

If you are a fan of clouds I highly recommend this book! It has a great wordless storyline about a school's field trip to New York City. In the story, a boy and a cloud become friends, and scheme to make new cloud art in the sky.

A Ball For Daisy

written and illustrated by Chris Raschka

This Caldecott-winning picture book features Daisy the dog and her favorite ball. She takes her ball everywhere, even to bed! One day, when playing in the park, another dog accidentally pops Daisy's ball. Daisy feels sad until, the next day, the other dog's owner brings Daisy a blue ball. The two dogs play together and become good friends.

Bink & Gollie

by Kate DiCamillo and Alison McGhee, illustrated by Tony Fucile

This book is the story of two best friends. They live together in a tree house, one upstairs, and one downstairs. These two girls are as different as can be, but they are best friends. This book contains three of Bink and Gollie's adventures, and has two sequels.

Pippi Longstocking

by Astrid Lindgren, translated by Tiina Nunnally, illustrated by Lauren Child

This is a new translation of an old favorite, it also features new illustrations! Pippi Longstocking stories were first published in the 1940s in Sweden. Pippi is the star of these stories, a girl who goes on all kinds of adventures with her human and animal friends.
